

Brendan Patrie's Eagle Project

Hello it's Brendan Patrie. The final phase of my eagle project is coming up. I plan on recreating a small trail next to Wapping Community Church that is currently being used as the church's mulch pile. As with all eagle projects I could use as much help as I can get. Here are the details of the project:

Saturday, June 12th 9am: This date is open to everyone. On this day we will be doing a multitude of things. One group will be in charge of finishing the trail and cleaning up the creek next to the trail. Some will help create a mulch pile for the church and move the church's grass and leaf waste to this area. Another group will bring the church's wood waste up to a chipper run by adults, and then lay down the chippings on the trail. There will also be a group in charge of creating a small fire ring on the trail. Finally, one group will be placing some logs in the banks of a creek next to the river to prevent erosion if time allows.

Work items needed include work gloves, rakes, shovels, wheel barrels, wear long pants and sleeves (potential poison ivy), and scout spirit!!!

I am asking for one adult to bring a chainsaw to cut larger pieces of wood. Also if anyone has any spare cinder blocks or rocks they would like to get rid of, please bring those as well. We can use those items for the fire ring.

To get all of this done I will require as much help as possible, so I hope you all can make! And remember, drinks, pizza, and other assorted foods will be there awaiting the arrival of any and all volunteers. Thanks evryone!
